

FIRST EDITION. TELEGRAPHIC.

GRANT is spoken of as senator from Illinois.

Mo-R's majority in the tenth district is 84.

MORE railroads and less politics if you please, gentlemen!

THE census report of 1890—"Knoxville, 40,000 population."

TENNESSEE is the state of the future—the good state we mean.

WHAT will Ben. Butler do now? The Widow Oliver will please answer.

THE slate maker is now at work in Nashville. This is a nice work, but in the main unsatisfactory.

GEN. GONZALES has been elected president of the republic of Mexico by a majority of 8,041 votes.

SOME of our democratic friends are making a ghost of troops in Tennessee to scare themselves with.

AN ungrateful people should not be allowed to forget that Mr. Weaver, his candidate for president, still lives.

HANCOCK says he will not be a technical president. This is about the best thing he has done since Gettysburg.

MONEY is on deposit in New York to build two blast furnaces in Knoxville when the coal ring is broken.

THE man who most aptly joins the prime characteristics of a buzzard and hog is to be found in Jonesboro.

SOME of the Georgia politicians are advising that the electoral vote of the solid south should be cast for Garfield.

GARFIELD displayed some energy in seeing Mr. Hayes, but now his ability is displayed in the direction of unseating him.

JORGENSEN, the Virginia republican congressman, was re-elected by over 8,000 majority, running 500 ahead of his ticket.

BOB TAYLOR for the United States senate is now the aim of some of the first district democrats as we understand.

THIRTY FIVE hundred dollars has been appropriated to Holston conference of the M. E. church by the board of missions.

JUST how much that scheme to throw out the electoral vote of New York amounts to can be seen in our telegraphic columns.

ONE of the beauties of the great country now noticeable in the journalistic world in cabinet-making is the unanimity which they all will admit.

TWELVE thousand republican tickets were thrown out in the "shoe string" district of Mississippi because there was a ruled line under each of the candidates' names.

AN alarming large number of men are to be found in the south who are republicans in all except the name. Come on, friends. We will receive you with open arms.

THE Nashville banner gives currency to the "painful rumor" that two democrats elected to the legislature have announced their intention to vote for H. H. H. Maynard for United States senator.

WE notice a tendency in some quarters to conclude the warfare upon Gen. Hancock. This is all wrong. Next time he will be the head of the column of democracy, let us look upon him only as the gallant union general of the late war.

THE "banner" republicans of the United States is not that it was defeated by its 16,000 majority, but the fact that it was defeated by the people of Kansas by 20,000. So much for "bleeding Kansas," with its original "free whisky" foundation.

THE Court Journal remarks that Gen. Grant's cabinet will be:

Secretary of state—G. F. Harar, of Massachusetts.

Secretary of the treasury—Levi P. Morton, of New York.

Secretary of War—The nominee of the Cameron.

Secretary of the navy—Eugene Hale, of Maine.

Secretary of the interior—Charles F. Smith, of Ohio.

Postmaster general—Horace Maynard, of Tennessee.

Attorney General—Ben. Harrison, of Indiana.

HANCOCK'S NOBLE SENTIMENTS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—A letter was received here to-day from Gen. Hancock by an officer of the army, in which Gen. Hancock says emphatically that he has no part in the agitation relative to throwing out the vote of New York, and that he will not have any. He says he is opposed to the agitation and believes that Gen. Garfield was elected and should be inaugurated without any fuss.

BEN. HILL'S VIEWS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The New York Tribune to-day contains a private letter from Senator Hill, of Georgia, to Hon. S. B. Chittenden, of Brooklyn, furnished by the latter for publication, with Senator Hill's consent. The following are the most significant parts of the letter:

"Well, my friend, the most anxious event in our history has become a fact—a bid north against the south. No language can express to you the view I take of this event for evil. It can have no logic. If continued it will be but the disruption of the several monarchies or absolute consolidations of all the states into one empire. In either event our constitution system will fall in my opinion. The time has come when the great question for real statesmen to consider is, how speedily to break up this sectional solidarity and organize parties altogether on other issues. The democratic party is hated at the north and, therefore, it ought to be disbanded. The republican party is hated at the south and, therefore, it ought to be disbanded. Whether this hatred is just or not makes no difference. I would be glad to see a great national union party organized, for I believe that a government formed by the constitution is a nation. True, it is a limited nation, but with powers delegated to it by the constitution it is as much a nation as any on the globe. I really like Garfield. I sincerely hope he will have a successful administration. He has the ability for the crisis. He must feel keenly the fact that he is elected solely by northern votes; but he has a great opportunity, and he can if he will easily and consistently destroy all sectional animosities and solidities, and be chosen for a second term by a majority of states north and south. This opportunity is far greater than the office itself, and if utilized will give him fame which the office could not give, and which no previous president attained. But will he do it? I greatly hope he will, and I greatly fear he will not. I see a movement to make an issue on the result in New York, with a view to defeat Garfield in the country's congress. There would be great danger of this for one fact, and that one fact is, the south will not countenance it. Poor, divided and abused, the south, if necessary, will more save the country from a revolution, and, as before, will get no credit for it. The republican party will take the presidency peacefully because the south will not countenance it, and the leaders of that party will tell the people from every stump in the north that the south must not be trusted. Nevertheless, we shall await all revolution not to win republican praise, or to avoid republican abuse, for either is impossible, but solemnly because it is right and we are determined to preserve the peace of the country. How long human nature can bear this, I do not know. It is injustice unparalleled and a wrong that ought to cover the north with blushes."

THE PHILIP FORGERY CASE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The Times publishes a statement concerning the confession alleged to have been made by witness Morey in the Philip forgery case yesterday. It says Morey's confession is substantially as follows: The scheme for bringing him to this city to testify as to the existence of H. L. Morey originated in the law office of John Sanborn, in Lawrence, Mass., and was the result of a conspiracy between "Al" Clark and Sanborn. Clark keeps a billiard saloon in Lawrence, and Sanborn is a lawyer and was a candidate for presidential elector on the democratic ticket in Massachusetts. Morey was crammed by Clark in Sanborn's office before coming here, and both Clark and Sanborn knew that he was coming to New York to testify to the lie. Clark volunteered to come with him, pay his expenses and take him back out of the money which he was to receive for his testimony. The two came to this city Saturday before the election. Morey was quartered for the first two nights in the rooms of the national democratic committee. On the day after his arrival he went to the office of the newspaper which published the forgery, where he was asked if he could recognize the handwriting of H. L. Morey, his reputed uncle. He answered that he could. He was then asked what it was like. He said it was large and bold. He was shown no hotel register at this time, but next day was taken to the newspaper office again and shown the name of H. L. Morey in a Lynn hotel register and asked if he recognized it. He said that he did and was taken away again. Every word of his testimony on the stand, in the Philip case, was a lie, and he had been educated to tell it. When he left New York, to return to Lawrence, after giving his testimony, he received $150 from the national democratic committee in the form of a check drawn to his own order on the National Park bank, of this city. This check was cashed in Lynn, and Clark took for his share of it $50, leaving $100 for Morey. He was to receive $200 for coming to New York the second time. Morey had been out of employment a long time and had been hanging around Clark's billiard saloon in Lawrence until he was considerably in debt to his proprietor. He was asked by Clark to come to New York and testify falsely that he once had an uncle named H. L. Morey, and refused to do so. Finally Clark told him that he must either pay the debt at once or come, and as he could not pay, he consented to perjure himself. "Robert Lindsay," or Jas. O'Brien, as he confesses his real name to be, is a native of Washington, D. C., where he has lived nearly all his life. He has done nothing in particular for a living, but is one of the rough men about the city and has been in the penitentiary twice for disorderly conduct. He was sent for to go to Cumberland, Md., just before the election by W. L. Price, a candidate for presidential elector on the democratic ticket, and when he arrived there, Price and a police officer named Birmingham instructed him in the role which he was to play in this city regarding the Morey letter. Birmingham taught him the story he was to tell, and took him to prominent mines in the neighborhood and tried to drill him into a knowledge of their locality and features, but as subsequent events proved that the time was too short or the man was too stupid to gain a sufficient knowledge of this kind to make a successful perjurer. Then when the man was supposed to be thoroughly informed, Birmingham bought his ticket and sent him to this city, consigned to the paper whose purposes he was designed to serve. In the office of this paper, he was questioned and given ten dollars, with the promise of $100 more when his work was completed. His testimony, from beginning to end, was a fabrication. When he arrived here he was registered at French's hotel as Welsh and in Cumberland he was registered as Murray, so that he has had five names within a week. O'Brien says Hart gave him ten dollars when he arrived here last Saturday and promised him $100 when his work was done and he started for home. In his confession he admits he never saw the affidavits signed Robert Lindsay. The lawyers for the defense all and severally profess and wash their hands of any responsibility for the inculpated witnesses—Morey and O'Brien. Gen. Roger A. Pryor, on being asked what he knew of the matter, said he never saw either of the men before or had any direct or indirect communication with them until they were put on the stand. He did not even then examine them, but left that to the Tomb's lawyer, in a case to which he belongs.

Execution at Newport.

SOUTHERN METHODS.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 10.—A train from Madison Court-house, having on board five citizens of that county in charge of a deputy United States marshal, arrested for alleged violation of the election laws, was boarded on Tuesday night as it was leaving Madison by a party of masked men, who released the prisoners and made the witnesses disembark. The train was then permitted to proceed. No injury was sustained by any person.

MINOR DISPATCHES.

From Fulton's.

FULTON'S TENN., Nov. 9.

MR. EDITOR: We send you a few brief notes from this section. The diphtheria is raging in our midst. It preys mostly on small children. Death has resulted from it in the following families, to-wit: Wm. McEanet, a little girl four years old; Jonathan Ellis, a little boy seven years old; John Broyles, a little girl about three years old; Sylvester Kipley, little boy three years of age; Dr. G. A. McLean, infant son; Rev. J. L. Cardwell, infant son; Mattie Lynch, infant son. A number of children in the community are afflicted with the disease, but so far as heard from, all are improving except three of Rev. Mr. Cardwell's, who are very bad. We have heard of no new cases for several days and hope that the epidemic is beginning to abate.

Rev. Archibald G. Register, an able, elegant and prominent minister of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, died last night in the city of Washington, county, of hemorrhage of the lungs. His death is a great loss to his own and to the general church of Christ in upper East Tennessee. We can ill afford to spare such men, but we must acquiesce in the will of Him who besteth.

ALABAMA.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 10.—The majority of Gen. Wheeler, democrat, over Low, greenbacker and independent, in the eighth district, for congress, is 44.

The Alabama house of representatives organized to-day, with Mr. Dawson for speaker and Phelan for clerk. The governor's message was sent to both houses and deals entirely with state matters. The election for United States senator, to fill the place now occupied by Pryor, comes off on Tuesday, 23d instant. The principal names mentioned are Watt, Walker, Pugh, Bradford and O'Neal.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

ORANGE COURT HOUSE, Va., Nov. 11.—This morning the sides of a deep cut on the C. & O. R. R., about half a mile west of this place, caved in while the construction train, with fifty hands, were at work there. An immense mass of dirt and rock fell crushing several men against the sides of the cars, killing instantly Powhattan Taylor and Edmund Fields, colored, and seriously injuring five others, all colored. It is supposed others are under the falling rocks, which are now being rapidly removed.

LET IT BE PRODUCED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—In an interview with Gen. Hancock, at Governor's Island, by an associated press reporter, this morning, the general denied that the letter purporting to have been written by him to an army officer at Washington touching the New York vote, was written by him, and said that he was one of the persons who could not discuss the presidential election at present without incurring a fine. He also said if there was a letter in existence from him, purporting to be of that tenor, let it be produced.

SITTING BULL.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 11.—Allison, the scout sent to Sitting Bull's camp, has returned to Fort Buford. Sitting Bull said Major Walsh had proposed to mediate between himself and the United States and he wanted to wait for his return from the east. If Walsh did not return by the twentieth Sitting Bull would come to Fort Buford and listen to a proposition for surrender.

YELLOW FEVER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Assistant Surgeon John G. Porter, U. S. A., advises the national board of health, under date of November 9th, that there have been ten cases of yellow fever and two deaths at Key West, Fla., since the 3rd of November. Besides these there are some cases outside the city limits which have not been reported.

STOCKHOLDERS' CONVENTION.

Following is the further proceedings of the E. T. V. & G. R. R. Stockholders, Wednesday:

Col. Cole presented a preamble and resolutions which had been adopted by the board of directors, proposing that the stockholders of the E. T. V. & G. R. R. be called to a convention to be held at the Louisville and Nashville road in a direct connection from Knoxville to Louisville, Ky., the E. T. V. & G. company purchase sufficient of the stock of the K. & O. road, and render every assistance possible towards the completion of that link. These resolutions were adopted by the meeting.

The report of the advisory committee of the board of directors as to the purchase of the Selma, Rome and Dalton and Georgia Southern roads was read. They report that they were unable to make the purchases on the terms authorized by the called meeting of the stockholders in October last. The report was adopted and the power thus conferred on the board of directors was, on motion, rescinded.

A resolution was also adopted making and confirming the sale of all the interest the E. T. V. & G. railroad company has in the Georgia Southern railroad to R. T. Wilson & Co.

By resolution and motion the sale of the Georgia Southern road to the E. T. V. & G. railroad was then effected for the sum of $267,388.80. The E. T. V. & G. road is to acquire immediate possession and control of the same, to assume all the indebtedness, etc.

Maj. R. T. Wilson stated to the stockholders that at a judicial sale in Selma, Alabama, some time since, he had purchased the Selma, Rome & Dalton railroad, and he proposed to sell the road with all its accoutrements, to the E. T. V. & G. road for the sum of $2,650,000, with interest at 6 per cent, etc.

On motion, the offer was accepted and the purchase made.

In order to provide the ways and means for the above purchases and other outlays, a resolution was adopted by the stockholders authorizing the board of directors to issue ten millions of 5 per cent. bonds, payable in fifty years in gold coin, with interest payable semi-annually, to be secured by a mortgage on all the property of the various lines owned and controlled by this company.

The resolution provides that after the issuance of these bonds, four millions shall be set aside for the purpose of taking up and redeeming all the present mortgage indebtedness of the E. T. V. & G. road, which bears 7 per cent. interest, thus making a large saving by substituting the 5 per cent. bonds.

Further, that the amount of $2,650,000 be paid to Maj. Wilson in payment for the Selma, Rome and Dalton road.

A resolution was also adopted, to the effect that the recommendations about the extension of the Knoxville & Ohio line from Careyville to the Kentucky line meets the hearty approval of the stockholders and they authorize the board of directors to provide the ways and means herefor.

Maj. Wilson stated that he and Messrs. Adrian Iselin and W. T. Walters, to avoid any technicality that might arise on account of their connection with the Selma, Rome & Dalton road and its sale to this company, they had deemed it proper, after taking legal advice, not to become candidates for re-election as directors in this road. This action, he stated, was not taken on account of any trouble or misunderstanding, but merely to avoid any possible trouble which might arise in the future.

On motion of Col. Cole, a recess was taken till 3 o'clock to allow the stockholders an opportunity to cast their ballots.

AT THE AFTERNOON SESSION

The result of the election was announced, and the following constitute the new board of directors, each one having received 16,076 votes: Jos. R. Anderson, Bristol; T. G. Barrett, Augusta, Ga.; E. W. Cole, Tennessee; Henry B. Davis, Cleveland; R. C. Jackson, Joseph, Knoxville; W. C. Kyle, Whitesburg; C. M. McGhee, Knoxville; B. F. Newcomer, Baltimore; Jas. R. Ogden, Knoxville; R. H. Richards, Atlanta; O. H. P. Rogan, Knoxville; James A. Roosevelt, New York; E. J. Sanford, Knoxville; H. Walters, Baltimore.

Gen. A. H. H. Walters, Baltimore, a resolution returning the thanks of the stockholders to Maj. R. T. Wilson and C. M. McGhee, for their very able and efficient management of the interests of the road.

Maj. Wilson moved, and it was adopted, that when this meeting adjourns it be to meet again on the 9th of December next, to take further steps towards the construction of the K. & O. road from Careyville to the Kentucky line.

Accordingly there being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

met immediately after the adjournment and elected Col. E. W. Cole president, Col. C. M. McGhee vice president and Jas. G. Mitchell secretary and treasurer. The former managers of the road is continued without any change, and is follows: O. H. P. Rogan, auditor and paymaster; John F. O'Brien, superintendent and chief engineer; J. B. Hoxale, master of transportation; James R. Ogden, general freight and ticket agent.

Rev. R. R. Burts, of Manassas, Va., says: "Tait's Pills are held in high repute as a liver regulator in hot climates. In fact, I hardly know how we could get along without them. Chills and fever have left their dread. Our people take one or two doses of the pills and follow it with fifteen grains of Quinine, divided in three doses, during the day. Theague never returns."

Almost Young Again.

My mother was afflicted a long time with Neuralgia and a dull, heavy, inactive condition of the whole system; headache, nervous prostration, and was almost helpless. No physicians or medicines did her any good. Three months ago she began to use Hop Bitters, with such good effect that she seems and feels young again, although over 70 years old. We think there is no other medicine fit to use in the family.—A lady in Providence, R. I.—Journal.
